

TEACHERS RESIGN AS PROBE STARTS

Charges of Immorality in Cameron School Starts
Something.

WORK IS NOT TO STOP

John A. Whitehurst Says He Will Investigate the Conditions There.

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 4.—Delegations of virtually half the faculty of the Cameron state school of agriculture at Lawton today is expected to be the end of internal quarrels at the school with which the state board of agriculture has been concerned for a week past. John A. Whitehurst, president of the board, said this afternoon. New teachers will be installed at once and work will proceed without further interruption.

Of the 16 teachers in the school, only did not report this morning. Whitehurst announced, and their absence was taken to mean they will not remain on the faculty. They are A. H. Long, assistant in agriculture; H. M. Moore, manual training; Miss Marie McLenore, English and history; Miss Mary Lois Lockhart, music; Miss Kathleen Evans, secretary to the president, has been dismissed, Whitehurst said.

C. C. Farley, president of the board, will remain in charge and he was given assurance by the board today that his administration would be supported fully. Mrs. Augusta Hughes, matron, whose allegations of immoral conduct against girls attending the school, now said to have been the cause of the satisfaction that preceded the resignation of the school's faculty, will be reinstated as a member of the faculty, Whitehurst announced.

OWEN OPENS UP AN OFFICE

Governor Robertson and Dr. Duke in Charge of Campaign.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The first headquarters to be established in Washington for a democratic candidate for president in the presidential campaign were opened today in the bond building, at the corner of New York avenue and A street, for the Oklahoma delegation to the democratic national convention in behalf of Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma. The principal headquarters of the Oklahoma delegation will be maintained at Oklahoma City. The officials of the delegations are as follows: Gov. J. D. Robertson of Oklahoma, chairman; Dr. John W. Duke of Guthrie, chairman executive committee.

The sale, certified Nancy Hall seed wheat potatoes, best in Arkansas; wire or write for price, G. E. Warner, Russellville, Ark.—Adv.

State Briefs

OILTON, March 4.—Orders have been given by County Commissioners, Harrison, tonight, for the road outfit to grade the side of roadway between the north city limits and the river bridge, making it conform to the regular grading that has been done on the rest of the roadway in the county. The road will be chatted the same as the balance of the hard-surfaced highways in the county and will be paid out of the million-dollar bond issue.

HOMINY, March 4.—Interest in the municipal election seems to be confined to a fight for the job of city marshal. Joe Marlar, a well-known business man, appointed by the council to fill a vacancy, is a candidate, and he has three opponents. The bipartisan or non-partisan council will probably stand intact.

PONCA CITY, March 4.—Ponca City was the headquarters for this entire district today for recruiting men for the United States army, with Captain Arthur Gower in charge. Details were sent to both Blackwell and Newark, and others will be sent to Pawnee and Pankuska.

MIAMI, March 4.—A lucky discovery by Senator J. J. Smith of Miami saved the Miami-Afton highway, now under construction. While at the special session of the legislature he found that the state's appropriation to meet the government's appropriation had lapsed since last September.

HEISTOW, March 4.—The Heistow Building and Loan association has increased its stock from $250,000 to $500,000. The demand for new residences made the increase a necessity, as all of the previous capital had been loaned out. About 100 new residences are planned for early erection here.

SELECT COLLEGE SITE SOON

Southern Methodists Will Meet in April to Make Decision.

By Associated Press State Wire
OKLAHOMA CITY, March 4.—A site for the proposed Southern Methodist college to be located in some city in Oklahoma will be chosen at a meeting of the state educational board of the church in April, it was decided here today. The selection of a site which was to have been made this morning was postponed because some of the cities did not have their reports on cash budgets completed.

Cities contesting for the college were Tulsa, Okmulgee, McAlester, Durant, Ada, Chickasha and Oklahoma City. Each of the contesting cities had a site to offer and a cash bonus to be raised by the city.

Fewer Acres in Wheat.

WICHITA, Kan., March 4.—In Kay county, Okla., fewer acres are in wheat now than a year ago, and the crop does not show up very well, according to S. R. Hanson, Mr. Hanson states there is going to be more oats and corn this year, as farmers feel they can do better with feed crops than in raising wheat. The wheat crop of 1919 did not prove profitable. It was largely straw, and the yield was light, while the work of handling it was very expensive.

*We proudly announce that THIS STORE has been selected as the future
House of*

KUPPENHEIMER
good Clothes for this community. It means much for you as well as for us

- ☞ real style
- ☞ true quality
- ☞ sincere value
- ☞ elegant tailoring
- ☞ clothes satisfaction
- ☞ clothes economy

See the New Models

Curtis Brown Co.

Tulsa's Livest Leading Men's Store

PAIGE OWNERS!

NEW DISTRIBUTORS LOCATED AT
10th and Main St. South
PHONE FOR DEMONSTRATION
OSAGE 5875
LEWIS-MARSH Corporation

Would He Think This Economy?

Would your husband think he was saving money by doing the baking after office hours? Not much! He knows the value of specialization and of leisure and recreation.

He would know he was losing time, nervous force, brain power—and he would soon see he was not saving any money, as well. Home-baking saves you not one cent, and its cost of time, patience and worry is tremendous. You can get better bread at your grocer's by saying "HOLSUM."

Better bread isn't baked than

HOLSUM

TULSA BREAD CO.
Makers of Holsum and Butterkust Bread
602-4 East Third Street
Visitors Always Welcome

